Clogs

"Dick" Ferrell, of 22, Emerson Road, Newbiggin, who has danced in clogs for the championship of the world, as well as for the championship of Northumberland and Durham, has written to me in regard to Mr. W. Caldwell's offer on behalf of Jim Ellwood—another well-known old dancer who is willing to enter the championship contest that is being organised at Stanley by Mr. "Harry" Robinson.

Mr. Ferrell does not think this entry will help to a revival in clogs.

"Let youth and Harry Robinson put dancing in the front line again," he submits.

Mr. Ferrell has taught such champions as George Warren, Jack Berrell, Andrew the Town Moor and the site of the old and the new in country life.

Easton, Ned May and many others—"many," he adds, "who are young enough yet to compete and make a good contest."
