

Miss L.A. Madden,

Grandmother was brought up on a farm at Whitbeck, & was 5 when the classes were held. Her brother walked & she rode on the pony to the classes.

School stopped for the classes - this is quite definite - this would be Whidam School.

Grandmother was Hannah Poole, died at 80+.

Miss Madden is a friend of Miss Ineson, ex-schoolteacher.

Mr F. Clark, The Beaches, ~~Low Wood~~ ^{Low Wood}

Grand-daughter of old Jos Robinson.
She has his death card, 25th July, 1908, aged 70.
Interred at Finsthwaite.

Stanley was the eldest son, Joseph, her father, was next. She doesn't remember Stanley, so he probably died before old Jos.

Her brother is the postman at Finsthwaite.

Mr Joseph Robinson, farmhouse just outside Finsthwaite.

I could probably find that programme. Also has a photo of old Jos.

Her father was a very good dep-dancer & (but never taught dancing) dep-dancer. He had black ~~wood~~ velvet belt with medallions on it. He had won this for dancing. His clogs ^{had} no ~~wood~~ and the edges were rounded.

She thinks there ^{was} a little (Monotype) ball on the outside about middle of the clog, cut to a typically clog height. She has heard her Dad talk about The Sward

Dance - it sounded as though he knew it.

But she had no recollection of how it was done.

~~At~~ In her young days many people wore clogs.
