Napoleons Grand March.

This dance opened the display, the correct title
was Grand March but it was done to "Buonaparte Grand March" & so became called this. (Row 4th collection)

The couples danced into the hall and twice round (double step) partners holding right hands, the ladies shawl on gentleman's left arm, they led to the ladies' places and faced one another dancing the side step & finished with single shuffle off. The man gave the lady her shawl & then walked to his place.

Side Step: the double step done on the spot.

Step 1.2.3. on count 1 the free leg is placed crossed behind the supporting leg & on count 3 is placed back in position.

(This step was done in Longside or Morris)
(Proctor.)
