

Salisbury and Winchester Journal.

Monday, February 27, 1815, p4 col5.

Dancing. Mr. Read, Professor and Teacher of Dancing, begs leave most respectfully to inform the nobility, gentry and other families of Salisbury and its vicinity, that, flattered by the encouragement he has already with, he is induced to reside entirely in this city, for the purpose of teaching that polite and graceful accomplishment, Dancing, in the most genteel and fashionable taste; particularly the Plain Minuet, Devonshire Minuet and Gavot, Minuet de la Cour and Gavot, Dauphin Minuet and Gavot, le Minuet de Paris, Cotillions, Ballets, Tambourine Dance, Gaitinet ditto, Shawl ditto, Pas de Dne, Ghontreuse, Scotch Reels, Waltz, Irish Steps, Hornpipes, Country Dances, etc, etc. Mr Read hopes from his style and manner of teaching, to be able to give every satisfaction to those Ladies and Gentlemen who may please to honour him with their favours.

Any commands addressed to him, at Mr. Stephen's, upholsterer, St. Ann's street, will be immediately attended to, and the most punctual attendance will be given to families at any distance in the county.

Mr. Read's Dancing-Academy, for young ladies and Gentlemen, will open at his lodgings, in St. Ann's Street, on Monday the 6th of March:— for young ladies, on Mondays and Fridays, from six o'clock till eight in the evening; and for Gentlemen on Tuesdays and Thursdays, from seven o'clock till nine.

Q3 Mr. Read having studied the Violin, under the celebrated Bianchi, will accompany young Ladies on the Piano Forte; and give instruction on the above instrument to a few young Gentlemen. Salisbury, Feb. 25, 1815.